

The Foundry Theater

Business Sponsorship Opportunities

The Foundry @ Antioch College is a multi-use performing arts center with a long and rich history in the village of Yellow Springs. Our vision moving forward is that it will serve as a cultural hub for Antioch College and the regional community through original programming, artists in residence, and partnerships with other mission-aligned organizations and events.

In the 2023-2024 season The Foundry Theater hired a new director and relaunched its activities, presenting 22 performances that include new work from Artist-in-Residence company's and nationally touring performances. The season reached an audience that exceeded 3000 unique visitors, generated nearly $100,000 in ticket sales and donations, and reinvigorated a community asset that is our beloved performance space.

Season Sponsor: $2,500

Full Size display in the Lobby
1/2 page ad in all programs
Recognition in publicity and on the Foundry website
Ticket package to all season performances

Season Builder: $1,250

Half Size display in the Lobby
1/4 page ad in all programs
Recognition in publicity and on the Foundry website
Ticket package to 5 season performances

Antioch College values the history of its celebrated theater past and embraces a vision for the next wave of programming at the Foundry that is an expansive mix of cross-cultural performances. Stretching across various disciplines that work to engage the broader community through a ticketed series, The Foundry Theater is poised to be a vibrant nexus of community and expression.

The New York Times

Best Theater of 2021

"...one of the most titanicallly musical nights of my year, bringing gospel, soul and Afrobeat to Rogers and Hammerstein in 'The Sound of {Black} Music.'"

The Foundry's season kicked off in October of 2023 with a stunning performance from Electric Root's The Sound of (Black) Music

Thank you to our media sponsor:

