

Women of Distinction Nomination Form

The Coretta Scott King Center for Cultural & Intellectual Freedom proudly presents the 2008 Women of Distinction Recognition Awards. We will be honoring four exceptional women from the Antioch and Yellow Springs Community who have made unique and valuable contributions to their communities and/or professions. These women are an inspiration and role model for those around them.

We are seeking nominees whose efforts are aligned with the ongoing work of the Coretta Scott King Center for Cultural and Intellectual Freedom. The mission of the CSK Center is to lead Antioch and the surrounding communities by creating an environment in which members come to understand freedom by developing strategies that facilitate diversity, instill responsibility, and reinforce equality and justice. The CSKC works toward 3 major objectives: The eradication of racism, the eradication of poverty, and the eradication of violence. We feel very fortunate to have the opportunity to honor amazing women in our community who work toward these same goals.

Nominations will be reviewed by a selection committee, including Yellow Springs community members, Antioch students, and Antioch staff and faculty. Recipients will be honored at an awards reception at the Coretta Scott King Center for Cultural & Intellectual Freedom on Friday March 14, 2008.

Who inspires you? To nominate a woman for this honor, please complete all the fields in the form.

Two ways to make a nomination:

- * Fill out and submit the form in person, or
- * Mail it to us

Mail nomination form to:
The Coretta Scott King Center
Attn: Carrie Detty
Antioch College
795 Livermore St.
Yellow Springs, OH 45387

Nomination forms must be received by Monday, January 14, 2008.

For more information please contact Carrie at the CSK Center at 937-769-1789 or cdetty@antioch-college.edu